

Shock absorbers

The well-known Swedish Volvo driver Sven Inge Neby, with innumerable rally and rallycross victories to his credit, naturally drives with gas pressure absorbers from Volvo R-sport.

"I have used the same Volvo absorbers in more than 40 tough competitions", says Mr. Neby. "Including the Swedish a couple of times."

Choose the shock absorbers you need.

If you drive your car "hard", normal shock absorbers are not sufficient mainly because the oil changes its consistency. That's why all competition drivers use gas pressure absorbers, which don't wear out as quickly.

Make sure that you buy gas pressure absorbers, but choose the ones to suit your way of driving. Below are all the approved gas pressure absorbers from which to choose when driving your Volvo "hard".
